

TAMIRANEWS

KANTHARI VISITS NORTON

February 2023 will forever be etched in the memories of all stakeholders and students of Tamiranashe Trust. Founders of the internationally-acclaimed educational institution Kanthari, Paul and Sabriye Tenberken were in Norton on the 13th and 14th. They took time to appreciate the work being done by Tamiranashe Trust and its founder, Nancy Mbaura. Their visit was eventful, with the major highlights including an appearance on national broadcaster ZBCTV's Good Morning Show. They were welcomed the traditional Zimbabwean way of drumbeat and dance. In addition, befittingly for the couple since it was Valentine's Day, Wadzanayi Mungwari, daughter to the host founder Nancy, baked them a nice cake too!

TAMIRANASHE TRUST

Phone: +263 772 355 070

Email: founder@tamiranashetrust.org

Website: www.tamiranashetrust.org

MORE NEWS: MBAURA SPEAKS ON TRUST ROOTS

Tamiranashe founder Nancy Mbaura

BELOW: Sabriye and Paul on ZBCTV's Good Morning Zimbabwe show

TAMIRANEWS

TAMIRANASHE'S KANTHARI LINK

Tamiranashe Trust is a registered organisation working in Norton, Zimbabwe, with the aim of giving vulnerable members of the community access to education. Thanks to the Trust, thousands of children in Norton now have access to education despite being from poverty-stricken backgrounds and child-headed families.

The founder, Nancy Mbaura, underwent twelve months training under the Indian-based Kanthari International School of Social Changers. The training has been pivotal in capacitating Nancy for the great work being undertaken by her organisation.

Her mentors, Paul and Sabriye Tenberken were highly impressed by her efforts during their visit in February.

Above Pic: THE CAKE THAT WADZA BAKED for the visiting principals of Kanthari